

WEIGHT LOSS

Your 12-week welcome packet, built for sustainable fat loss and the habits that make it last.

Welcome

Welcome to Echelon. You are starting (or restarting) your fitness journey, and the goal of these 12 weeks is not to be perfect, it is to build a routine you can actually keep. We built this program around consistency first, everything else follows from that.

Your Program At a Glance

Format: 3 full-body lifting days a week, plus 2 to 3 walk-based cardio days.

Phase	Weeks	What's Happening
1: Onboard	1-3	Movement competency, building the habit, low soreness.
2: Build	4-7	Load increases gradually, light circuits get introduced.
3: Progress	8-11	Full working intensity, your daily step target increases.
Deload	12	Reassess, celebrate the wins, plan the next block.

How We Work Together

- Your day-by-day training lives in Today's Work inside your Member Portal, log in anytime to see what's next, and mark it complete once you finish.
- Check in honestly. Tell your coach what actually happened, not what you think we want to hear, an honest "I missed two days" helps us adjust; a false "everything's perfect" just delays the fix.
- If something hurts (not just the normal soreness of training), stop, message your coach before your next session, and see a clinician if it does not resolve. Never push through real pain.
- Your plan will change. What you start Week 1 with is not what you will be doing Week 8, that is not the plan failing, that is the plan working.

What Makes Weight Loss Different

Weight Loss is built for consistency first. If you are starting or restarting your fitness journey, the biggest risk is not picking the wrong exercise, it is stopping. Every choice in this program, from load progression to rest between sets, is designed to keep you coming back tomorrow, not just to make week one hard.

The Echelon Standard

Every Echelon program is built on the same four things: Structure, a proven system that removes the guesswork; Accountability, coaching and check-ins that keep momentum moving; Commitment, progress earned by returning to the standard, especially when motivation is low; and Faith, strength that starts internally, character and purpose driving everything else. The exercises in front of you are specific to your goal. The standard behind them is the same for every person who trains with us.

Getting In Touch
